Agenda – Open Session

Tour of the UCLA Medical Center

There will be limited opportunity for participation by members of the public.

The hospital is still very much a construction site; guests are asked to adhere to the guidelines described below. The office of the General Contractor requires all visitors to dress with the safety precautions in mind. The precautions are intended to help prevent guests from possible injury on any construction materials located at the working site.

Shoes: Hard-soled shoes with closed toes and backs are required. Heels must be no higher than three-quarters of an inch. Hiking or work boots are strongly encouraged. Examples of acceptable footwear include penny loafers, wingtips, and leather boots with a low, square heel. Examples of unsafe footwear include high heels, ballet slippers, sandals, and tennis shoes.

Clothing: Slacks are preferred. No dresses, skirts, or sleeveless blouses/shirts are allowed.

Safety Items: Required hard hats and safety goggles will be provided for guests' protection.
